THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.

tec-Adjournment Till April. fethodist Book Committee sat yeste half-past three o'clock endeavoring to finish the business. Several of the members were xious to go to their homes and churches before Sabbath, and hence the hurry. The sub-Comwith one or two slight verbal amenda ras adopted. The report starts out with a neclara on to the Annual Conferences that the committee liged to admit that the publishing interests of he denomination, so far as they relate to the Book have been surrounded by the responsibility for all this trouble rests, but are not called upon to express any further judgment until their report to the General Conference. But notwithstanding all these grievous troubles, extending through nearly the whole quadrennium, some advance has been made in the material success of the interest committed to their oversight.

The report then recites the condition and status of the several publications, magazines, papers, reviews, &c., all of which are declared to have been found in a good and healthy condition and well edited and managed. The Sabbath school literature is also commended, and the German publications have been increased in numbers and efficiency and are well received. The periodicals in this department have reached the first position among the German periodicals of the country, both in extent of circulation and in the character of the literature itself.

The loss to the church by the Chicago fire, the The loss to the church by the Chicago fire, the committee says, will probably reach $100,000, but the recuperative power of Methodism in that region will doubtless attract the admiration of the church, and at no distant day they hope to recover from the ffects of that terrible disaster. The committee then gave their reason for not naving a more detailed report to present to the Annual Conferences, because the accountant appointed last summer has not yet made his report.

Malied report to present to the Annual Conferences, because the accountant appointed last summer has not yet made his report.

Upon the adoption of this report some debate was had in regard to the OPINIONS OF RESPONSIBILITY hinted at in the opening clauses. Some were in favor of striking out this part, but others favored making the language stronger. It was finally adopted as presented by the sub-committee.

A sub-committee on the Quadrennial Report, consisting of Drs. Cyrus Brooks (Chairman), J. S. Bingham and F. A. Biades, was appointed to review the work of the committee during the four years past, and to prepare the same for the General Conference. A discussion arose on the selection of this committee, the minority claiming that they should have a representative thereon. This demand was considered preposterous in a report which is to be presented to the whole Church as the final report of the Book Committee. After making necessary appropriations for the several publications, fixing the salaries of the bishops, editors and agents, the Committee adjourned till April 25, when the accountant's report will be ready.

PACIFIC MAIL INVESTIGATION.

to the charges preferred against the President ad directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Comany assembled yesterday morning at the St. scholas Hotel. The complainant is a Mr. Newton Layman, a stockholder, who asserted that the stock of the company had been manipulated to favor private speculation. With a commendable amount of patience the committee awaited the appearance of the stockholder for some time, but as he did not present himself an adjournment to the bompany's office was decided upon.

Shortly after one o'clock the committee met at the short of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company; but, before the investigation was formally resumed, Mr. Alberger, the chairman, desired to give an emphatic centradiction to the statement which appeared in a norming paper to the effect that the committee had seen smoking and drinking rum on the day preceding.

F. G. Bellows, Vice President of the company, sified that he came into office in November; he ind the financial statement now produced correct; sales were by order of the directors; in December 1, they sold $250,000 government ads, on the 5th $400,000, on the 16th $200,000, on 2 19th $100,000, on the 20th $250,000, on the 27th $00,000, and they seemed all around four per cent we than they paid. The company intended building msteamers, and the bonds were sold to pay cost. Stockwell and himself considered they would get higher price then than if they retained them, and at they were correct was proved by the fact that ey could now buy them in three and one-half per at lower than they sold; did not make loans on cific stock at less than ten per cent; loans were adde to Oswell & Chapin on Pacific stock, $700,000 $800,000; the loans outstanding were, Kenny & xx, $110,000; Van Vectten & Co., $450,000; anth & Co., $232,000; their principal account on the Bank of Commerce; none of the directors ade speems deposits; know nothing of any attempt "lock up" by calling on loans and deposits. The thress denied the statement that in December the mapany consolidated its currency and deposited it their safes: he always understood Mr. Stockwell egistry in January for 500 shares.

After some further evidence in reference to the fairs of the company a question rose as to the whereabouts of Layman. The Chairman said that a careful inquiry had been made concerning him in Greenpoint and New York, but that his residence could not be discovered. The counsel for the com-pany stigmatized the affair as a "nut up job" of "short operators." Mr. Bellows, in reply to further questions, stated that it was a strange thing that persons who sold stock to Layman should not know anything whatever about him only so lar as his name was connected with the present investiga-ion.

The committee adjourned to meet to-morrow merning at the St. Nicholas Hotel.

RAID ON THE TENTH AVENUE GANG.

For some time past the vicinity of Tenth avenue, from Twentieth street to Forty-second street, has seen infested by a gang of young rufflans who have become a terror to the neighborhood. Scarcely a night passed that some person was not knocked down and robbed. Captain Caffrey, determined to put a stop to these depredations, on Friday night detailed a number of officers in citizens' clothes. They succeeded in arresting the following, who are known to the police as desperate characters:—William Dwyer, alias McGuire: Larry Porsey. John McGovern, Jus. Kelly, Frank McLoughlin. Thomas Reilly and James Casey, alias the Kld. The prisoners, whose ages mange respectively from seventeen to twenty-eight years, were conveyed before Justice Fowler, at Jeferson Market, yesterday morning, for examination, on a charge of disorderly conduct, except McGuire and McGovern, who were discharged. become a terror to the neighborhood.
